

Hearing Aid Maintenance and Service

D. Enrique Sanchez
Au.D., CCC-A, FAAA,
Audiologist

Many hearing aids go into the drawer forever because they weren't maintained or serviced often and correctly. Not many people realize that a key ingredient of hearing aid use is the need for professional maintenance services.

That's why Acoustic Hearing Center continues to provide only the most advanced hearing aids and products, then we work hard to service and maintain these hearing devices.

Houston has severe weather and humidity, thus affecting electronic devices worn on our bodies every day. We understand that hearing aid service, cleaning, maintenance and repair are integral to successful hearing aid use.

Dr. Enrique Sanchez and the personnel at the Acoustic Hearing Center have a strong belief that people in Houston with hearing disorders can have the most advanced hearing options at the lowest prices, making it affordable for everyone. Our commitment to value and quality in hearing services ensures our patients have the best in hearing care.

Our goal is to become your preferred hearing care center in Houston through careful examination of our patients and their devices. Our customers and our practice continue to grow through referrals from satisfied clients.

Acoustic Hearing Center has one of the most complete independent hearing aid laboratories in the country where we make our own customized ear molds for hearing aids and other protective devices. We also have parts for repairs of most brands of hearing aids. Our advanced computer network allows us to reach and use most manufacturers' software, and therefore we can provide service and care. We can also make acoustic modifications for hearing aids needed to adjust to the constant progression of hearing loss due to nerve damage.
